

1. You need to fill out and sign an online application for a Belgium visa correctly.
2. A UK residence permit and a valid passport. You should have at least two blank pages in your passport, and it should be valid for at least three months after you leave the Schengen area.
3. There should be two passport-sized pictures that go with the application form.
4. The image should be recent and show your complete face.
5. You must provide proof of lodging, such as verified hotel reservations with all the details of your stay in Belgium.
6. In Belgium and other Schengen countries, your travel medical insurance must cover at least EUR 30,000.
7. Proof of transportation, such as a flight ticket, train ticket, driving licence, or vehicle registration number
Copy of the reservation for the return ticket
8. Include your travel itinerary and a cover letter that explains your reason for visiting a Schengen nation.
9. If you are going to visit relatives, you will need to include a letter from the host or sponsor, copies of the host's passport, and any other information that is needed with your application.
10. You must provide evidence of your income or sufficient personal resources to support yourself. According to the Belgian Ministry of Foreign Affairs and International Cooperation, a foreign person must prove that they have enough money to live on when they apply for a Belgium Visa Appointment at the embassy.